[TG 5:2 158-171] Works out the children of each marriage.

[Abell1 36-37] son and heir of Sir George Cotton. We find among the court roles at Combermere that a joint Manor Court was loden there by Richard Cotton, armiger, Seneschel of the said manor. The manor of New Hall was vested in Sir Richard Cotton for 2 portions, and in the Fitzwarings for 1 portion. Sir RC died 1601 aged 62. He seems to have resided at Stoke in the parish of Coventry for the last few years of his life.

He married 1st Mary Mainwaring in 1559 in Combermere. She was the daughter of Sir Arthur Mainwaring, of Ightfield, son of Richard Mainwaring and Dorthea, the daughter of Robert Corbett of Moreton.

He married 2nd, Jane Seyliard, in 1578.

He married 3rd, Philippa, probably the widow of John Dormer of co. Buckingham.

to acquire holdings, especially after his removal in 1643 to Rehoboth, a new settlement on the south side of the peninsula begun in 1642 by a party of colonists under the Reverend Samuel Newman, a minister at Weymouth for five years preceding. Robert Abell purchased the allotment first sold to Job Lane. His name appears frequently in public records up to the time of his death in 1663, including two appointments as keeper of the "Ordinary," from all of which it is reasonably to be assumed that he attained a position of considerable importance and was held in high esteem by his associates in the colony. In connection with the Inventory of his estate, administered by his widow Joanna, is mentioned his "eldest son," to whom was bequeathed the homestead, his "daughter Mary and five other children." His widow Joanna married William Hyde in 1667, and with her second husband moved to Norwich, Conn. Robert's eldest son, Preserved Abell, remained in Rehoboth, and his three other sons went to Norwich with their mother.

Probably all of the present day Abells of New England stock are descendants of Robert's three sons, Preserved, Caleb and Benjamin Abell. (I am through Caleb) His fourth son, Joshua, did not leave any male descendants. The 22nd and 24th President of the United States, Grover Cleveland, descended through the line of Experience Abell and her husband John Hyde, and would be a 4th cousin to me. As a point of interest, this Abell genealogy is traced back from my grandmother, Mattie Akers, but the line links with the Varney family, who are the ancestors of my grandfather, Herbert Maxfield. Frank Gifford is also found in the Abell genealogy.

5. Caleb^5 Abell (Robert^4, George^3, Robert^2, Robert^1)[4] was born April 1646 in Rehoboth, Bristol, MA, and died August 17, 1731 in Norwich, CT. He married (1) Mary Miller. He married (2) Margaret Post[5] July 1669 in Norwich, CT, daughter of John Post and Hester Hyde. She was born 1653.

Notes for Caleb Abell: Sergt. Caleb Abell is first mentioned in the Colonial records at Dedham in 1665, petitioned for Freeman in Dedham, May 3, 1665; in 1668 moved to Norwich, Conn. In the original purchase of land when Norwich was settled, six acres having 16 rods front was assigned to Robert Wade, this he sold to Caleb Abell in 1677 and it was afterwards known as the Abell homestead. This property abutted on Town Street 16 rods, on the home lot of Morgan Bowers 72 rods, on the river 18 rods and on John Birchard land 74 rods. The location may be seen in a map on page 67 of "Caulkins' Norwich." On December 18, 1694 Caleb was appointed to keep his house as "an ordinari or of entertayment" for the year, or until another be chosen.

In 1697 Caleb and ten others were allowed to build a seat on the east side of the meeting house on the Leanto beams for their convenient sitting on the Lord's Days. Rev. Huntington's book of "Old Houses of the Ancient Town of Norwich" names 36 men whom he supposes to have been original proprietors; but one of these was Richard Wallis and another was Caleb Abell, who in 1660 was only 14 years of age. On May 2, 1728 Caleb deeded 12 1/4 acres of land to his daughter, Esperience Hide. On January 12, 1727-8 Caleb deeded to his son Noah his home lot, dwelling house and barn, all lands adjoining his home lot and lands over the river (Yantic) his pasture land lying northerly and northeasterly of William Hide dwelling house (which house was on the other side of Town Street and a little to the east) lying in two parcels, together with land on both sides of Bradford brook on north side of road leading to Lebanon, except 1 1/2 acres on south east of brook and land near Benjamin Abell's dwelling house which he gave to his son Samuel, reserving to himself and his wife Marey the dwelling house during his life and for hers after his decease, also liberty to his daughter Hannah to dwell in said house so long as she remains unmarried and a passageway across home lot to his son Samuel to Samuel's own land.

Caleb joined the first church of Norwich before 1701. He was Sergeant of the Norwich Train Band in 1701 and Selectman in 1682, Constable in 1684 and 1706 and Townsman in 1689. In the book of Grants in Norwich, there are 38 or more items to Caleb Abell.

My notes:

The above Capt. John's wife, Rebecca Sluman's, mother also being a Bliss, I looked at the Bliss Genealogy again. She, Sarah Bliss, was the daughter of Thomas Bliss of Hartford, Saybrook and Norwich, Connecticut. He is a member of the third generation in the book. I did not make a copy of his family as I did not think him important at the time. I will go to the Binghamton library tomorrow and copy his statistics. I did copy by hand:

[TG 5:2 158-171] Works out the children of each marriage.

[Abell1 36-37] son and heir of Sir George Cotton. We find among the court roles at Combermere that a joint Manor Court was loden there by Richard Cotton, armiger, Seneschel of the said manor. The manor of New Hall was vested in Sir Richard Cotton for 2 portions, and in the Fitzwarings for 1 portion. Sir RC died 1601 aged 62. He seems to have resided at Stoke in the parish of Coventry for the last few years of his life.

He married 1st Mary Mainwaring in 1559 in Combermere. She was the daughter of Sir Arthur Mainwaring, of Ightfield, son of Richard Mainwaring and Dorthea, the daughter of Robert Corbett of Moreton.

He married 2nd, Jane Seyliard, in 1578.

He married 3rd, Philippa, probably the widow of John Dormer of co. Buckingham.

- ID: I30528
- Name: Robert Richard Abell
- Sex: M
- Birth: 1589 in Hemington, Leicster, England
- Death: 20 JUN 1663 in Rehoboth, Bristol, Massachusetts
- Note: [1] The Abell Family in England and America by Horace A. Abell, Rochester, NewYork and Lewis P. Abell, Los Angeles, California p.43, 46 A1D19Considerable Confusion has resulted in the alteration of the form of the name Abell, both by members of the family and perhaps to a larger extent by general public usage or indifferenc.The signature of our immigrant, Robert Abell, and those record under his control, always appear in the form of "Abell", which more recently has been confirmed by discovery of the will of his father George Abell, of Leicestershire, England.p.13 King william, after he had gained possession of the lands in England by conquiest, and in order better to protect his followers in their acquired rights to the soil, sent commissioners into each county for the purpose of accumulating exact statements of the property and revenue of the kingdom wherever rents and services were due to the crown. These inquisitions or surveys were completed in the year 1086, and afterwards arranged in proper order in a record called Domesday. Thru the means of this record we learn that estates or manors were managed for the crown by stewards or lords as subtenants. Many Normans who had rendered assistance to the Conqueror were rewarded by being made tenants-in-chief to the king. Of these tenants-in-chief there were about 1400 in number. The were considered the most distinguished men of that period, and stood ready at a moments notice to render any service that the king might require of them, whether of a civil or military nature. We find the name of Abell enscribed in this Domesday book as an under-tenat living in the County of Kent. This may have been the progenitor of the English family that flourished in various parts of England from the Conquest to the Stuart period and to the present time.p.14 Some elaboration may be permissible here of a tradition persisting in many branches of the lines of Robert Abell as well as in some non-relanted lines, and unknown to each other, of the Welsh origin of our family and name.If indeed it has any basis in fact, it must antedate our earliest record by several centuries. The Welch are known to be the remnant of the ancient Britons crowded into their mountainous retreat by the covetous Angles and Saxons who came to "rescue" them from the Pects and Scots in the fifth century.Others found refuge across the channel in northwestern France, which henceforth has been known as "Brittany" and adjoins the province of "Normandy"established by the "Norsemen" about the same period. Therefore the tradition finds plausabel verification in the return, under the banners of William the Conqueror, of Sir Abell to repossess his own. Even a brother of Harold had allied himself with another invader direct from the "Northlands" paying with their lives at Stamford Bridge only a month before Hastings.Robert Abell, Exquire, was living in Bryslingcote, County Derby, in 1517. He was servant or tenant of Sir William Gresley. His grandson, George Abell, of Leicestershire, in 1578 matriculated at Brasenose College University of Oxford.He appears to have been a member of a branch which flourished in the central counties during the 16th and 17th centuries in which the names of Robert andGeorge predominted/ But our story soty digresses from the English lines in 1630 when Robert, 2nd son of George Abell of Leicestershire set sail in the fleet under Governor Winthrop for Massechusetts Bay.His father's will made in September of the same year "cut him off" with a"twenty shilling piece", in view of having set him up in business in London of which he had made no use and more recently of having outfitted him for New England with the hope of his safe arrival.No doubt George Abell had passed on before such a message could have been received in those days. The first American record finds Robert Abell inWeymouth, Massechusetts, where on 19 October 1630, his name appears on apetition, with others, to be made a "Freeman on 18 May 1631. This act endoued him with privileges and responsibilities of citizenship in the new colony,including ownership of lands, in the exercise of which he continued to acquire holdings, especially after his removal in 1643 to Rehoboth, a new settlement on the south side of the peninsual begun in 1642 by a party of colonists under the Revernd Samuel Newman, a minister at Weymouth for five years preceeding.Robert Abell purchased the allotment first sold to Job Lane. His name appears frequently in public records up to the time of his death in 1663, including two appointments as keeper of the "Ordinary", from all of which it is reasonably tobe assumed that he attained a position of considerable importance and was heldin high esteem by his associates in the colony. In Connection with the inventory of his estate, administered by his widow Joanna, is mentioned his"eldest son" to whom was bequeathed the homestead, his "daughter Mary" and"five other children". His widow Joanna married William Hyde in 1667, and with her second husband moved to Norwich, Connecticut.Roberts eldest son, Preserved Abell, remained in Rehoboth, and his three other sons went to Norwich with their mother.Probably all of the present day Abells of New England stock are descendants of Robert's three sons, Preserved, Caleb and Benjamin Abell. His fourth son Joshua, did not leave any male descendants.p.37The Line of Charlemagne32. Charlemagne (Charles I), K of the Franks and Roman Empire, md the SwabianPrincess, Hildegarde of Savoy31. Samuel Newman,the real founder of Rehoboth. Rev. Newman was a minister at Weymouth for fourand a half or five years, then with a majority of his congregation, in 1642removed to a place called by the Indians, Seekonk, to which he gave the name ofReholboth.The first meeting of the original planters of Rehoboth to be found on record isdated at "Weimoth" the 24 of the 8th month (October) 1643. About the year 1643a joint agreement was made by the inhabitants of See-conk alia Rehoboth, forthe bringing in of their estates; that so men's allotments might be taken upaccording to person and estate, also for carrying on of all public charges bothfor present and future; furthermore the menas and interest of what is herexpressed is that by which lands now granted by the Court of Plymouth to thetown, are to be divided according to person and estate, as is expressed in alist of 58 names. the 28th name on the list is Job Lane (underneath written)"Now Robert Abell's".50; it is evident that ROBERT ABELL was written in afterhe had bought of Job Lane.At a meeting of the town 18 February 1616 it was agreed to draw lots for thenew meadow, and to be divided according to person and estate, only those thatwere under 150, estate to be made up 150. ROBERT is the 41st name on a list of46 who foew for lots.The 26th of the 12th month 1651, it was agreed that ROBERT ABELL and RichardBullock should burn the commons round about, from the Indina Fence, all on theneck, to the new meadow near, and so far about the fresh meadows as may beconvenient; and they are to have 20 s, for their pains.The 28th of March 1653 it was concluded and agreed upon, that ROBERT ABELLshould have three acres of meadow on the north side of the line, next the town,next the line that parteth the land of the purchasers and the town of Rehoboth.This meadow was given them by Mr. Prince, Captain Standish and Mr. Winslow.On 1 February 1654 at a town meeting, ROBERT was ordered to keep the Ordinaryand on 3 July 1656 Plymouth, Massechusetts he is allowed by the court to keepand Ordinary at Rehoboth. (An Ordinary is a place where meals are provided.)On 22 June 1658 at a town meeting lots were drawn for the meadows that lie onthe north side of the town in order as followeth, according to the person andestate, of the 49 names on the list ROBERT was the third on the list who drewfor lots.ROBERT'S wife JOANNA, following his death married (2) in Rehoboth 4 June 1667,william Hyde, who probably came to America in 1633 with Rev. Thomas Hooker,sojourned a short time at Newton, Massechusetts and in 1636 removed with him toHartford, Connecticut where he was the first minster. He owned lands inHartford as late as 1639 and probably went to Saybrook, Connecticut soon afterthat. william Hyd was one of the original proprietors of Norwich, Connecticut,in 1660 and a man of considerable importance among the settler's frequentlyelected as townsman, or selectman. JOANNA was known in later years as GOODYHYDE."An inventory of----estate of Rehoboth deceased taken the of August 1663." Theonly real estate was "an house and land" 130. Admitted as a freeman 18 May 1631 and was on the list of those in Rehoboth who took the oath of fidelity in 1657. Son of GA and FC. Probably married by 1639. Joanna married 2) William Hyde of New Norwich at Rehoboth 4 June 1667 where she removed to Norwich and outlived him.

Inventory was taken 9 August 1663 and amounted to 354p 17s 9d of which the house and land accounted for 130p. Distribution of the estate was made on 3 March 1663/4.

He is mentioned at the Quarterly Court, Boston, 4 December 1638 and 2 June 1640 at Weymouth. In 1651, it was agreed that RA and Richard Bullock should burn the commons.... 28 March 1653, RA got 3 acres of meadow on the north side of the line, next the town; 1 February, he was ordered to keep and ordinary; and in Plymouth 3 July 1656, he was allowed to keep an ordinary at Rehoboth. ii. RUSSELL SMITH, b. October 30, 1793, Kent, Ct (Source: KVR 2-226.).

3. NOAH^5 SMITH, JR. (NOAH^4, MILL JOHN^3, JOHN^2, GILES^1) was born 1761 in New Fairfield, Ct, and died May 11, 1845 in Palmyra, Portage Co., Ohio. He married HANNAH MAIN, daughter of JAMES MAIN. She was born December 21, 1765 in Kent, Ct, and died April 16, 1858 in Palmyra, Ohio.

Notes for NOAH SMITH, JR.:
From Portage County, Ohio History:
In 1806, Noah Smith arrived from Connecticut, bringing with him a negro girl named Lucy. In 1807 a law was passed making it a penal offense to bring a black person into this State. Soon after this the Trustees of the Town brought a suit against Smith before Squire David Daniels to recover the penalty. The Justice gave judgement against Smith, and he appealed to the Court of Common Pleas. The case was tried in Trumbull County, to which Palmyra then belonged, and the judgement reversed, the Court holding thatt the penalty did not attach to one bringing in a darkey before the law was passed. This is said to have been the first suit in the Township.

MARY ABEL
SAMANTHA SMITH
RICHARD McBRIDE

also a beautiful sheet of water. She reported the discovery and the lake was named in her honor

MOTHER WARD'S POND.

It retained this name until a few years ago, when on account of the purity of its water it was selected as the reservoir of Ravenna's water supply and rechristened "Crystal Lake."

In 1802 David Jennings, with his wife Hannah (Wellman) Jennings, and their three sons, aged six, four and two years, emigrated to Ohio and settled in Ravenna Township.

Mrs. Jennings, making her home in the then unbroken wilderness, endured the many hardships of pioneer life.

Surrounded as she was by the dense forests, with plenty of wild animals and Indians near, she had to exercise great courage for herself and her children. Especially would this be necessary when her husband was absent from home as he was sometimes obliged to be, since many household supplies must be brought from Pennsylvania.

The Indians liked to take advantage of her when they came to buy corn. If she took up a short ear, they would place another on the end of it, and she dare not object, they, knowing her fear, would laugh among themselves and say, "that squaw is shy, shy."

Mrs. Jennings had six children whom she took great pride in training to be useful, respected citizens. She died in 1840.

Hannah H., daughter of Mrs. David Jennings was born in Ravenna in 1804, and was married to Schuyler Cutler in 1822.

Mrs. Cutler lived with her husband on a farm on the west line of the township where she died in 1835. She was the mother of six children. One of her daughters, Mrs. John Dodge, and a granddaughter, Mrs. J. H. Furry, are residing in our little city.

In 1815 Elliot Rawson came from Franklin County, Mass. and located on a tract of land one mile west of the court house.

His family consisted of a daughter and a son, with a second wife (Hannah Williams, sister of his first wife) whom he had married but a short time before.

The daughter, Hannah, a girl of seven, was bright and active, and although deprived of the many advantages that she had in her eastern home, yet as she grew to womanhood, she made the most of what knowledge she could obtain from the limited means within her reach.

Her father died when she was but a little over sixteen, which threw a great deal of responsibility upon her since her step-mother's health was far from good.

In the year of 1825, one month before she was seventeen she became Mrs. David Jennings, Jr.

She was a bright woman with great energy of character, never shirking any hardships which duty placed in her way. Her heart and home were always open, strangers and friends finding a welcome at all times, while a call from the sick or suffering was never unheeded.

In 1832 Elizabeth Knowlton came to Ravenna from Kennebec, Me., where she was born in 1813.

In 1833 she and Lewis Jennings were married and resided on the homestead with his parents. Although she did not have to endure the privations of the very early pioneer life, yet she has seen many changes in both city and country. Seven of her twelve children lived to maturity. Four of her daughters still reside in Ravenna, three at the old home, and one, Mrs. M. Gledhill, in the village. Mrs. Jennings died in 1895, on the farm where she and her husband first lived, and where his father reclaimed the land from an unbroken forest.

Miss Nancy A. Sapp was born in Maryland in 1810, and was married to Squire L. Jennings in 1833. At the time of her marriage she was living with her parents in Rootstown. The delightful air of hospitality which pervaded her home and her many, many kindly deeds are held in grateful memory by her friends. She had two children, a son, and a daughter, Ann Janette, who married Lorenzo Bosworth.

Betsey Trowbridge was born in Franklin County, Mass. in January, 1785. In 1807 she was united in marriage with Joseph Torry. In 1816 they with their young family left their native hills and came to Ravenna. She endeavored, in spite of difficulties to give her children all possible advantages of education and refinement that could be obtained. She was well informed on current events, and having a fine memory, could have given a good history of Ravenna during nearly seventy years of its growth.

To show how well her mind was preserved, we will by permission, give an extract from a letter to a friend written soon after the death of his wife. Mrs. Torry was then

NINETY-EIGHT YEARS OLD.

After expressing deep sympathy for him in the loss of so dear a friend, she says, "After severe suffering she has left her frail casket; her mortal has put on immortality, she has bade her friends and all the glittering toys of earth adieu, and has ascended up through the ethereal blue to mansions of the blest."

The winter before Mrs. Torry's death, which occurred in Cleveland at the age of ninety-nine years, she cut and sewed rags enough to make a carpet, which shows that she was physically as well as mentally vigorous.

Hannah Taylor was born in Franklin County, Mass. in 1788. Her parents moved to Phelps, N. Y., where in 1810 she was married to James T. Trowbridge. In 1833 they came to Ravenna with their family. She was a domestic woman, seldom leaving home, but her friends were warmly welcomed to her own fireside. Her three daughters lie in Maple Grove cemetery, Adaline, unmarried, Mrs. Wm. Bond and Mrs. Samuel Bloomer.

Sally Blakely was born in Genoa, N. Y. in January, 1797. She was married to Daniel Trowbridge in Phelps, N. Y. in 1818, and they in 1833 removed with their family of eight children to Ravenna. To them were born in Ohio three more children and only one of the eight daughters and three sons is now living in Ravenna. This daughter, Mrs. A. J. Jennings is residing on the farm where she and her husband first went to housekeeping, the farm on which Mr. Jennings was born. Mrs. Jennings wields a very facile pen and has kindly furnished the items for the Jennings, Trowbridge and Rawson families.

Four daughters of Mrs. Trowbridge live in Cleveland, and one in Michigan. One of the daughters, Percy, is a successful teacher in the Cleveland Central High School.

Mrs. Trowbridge retained the vigor of her mind until the time of her death, which occurred in Hudson at the age of ninety years.

Sally Rawson was born in Ravenna in 1816, and was married to N. D. Clark in 1834. Her entire life was spent in this place where her death occurred in 1889. Mrs. Clark had two daughters, both of whom preceded her to the world beyond. She was a genial, pleasant woman with a warm heart for all, especially the sick and needy. Mrs. Clark and so long as she was able, her home was open for the entertainment of friends.

Czarina Rawson was born in Ravenna in 1820 and married Geo. Harper in 1844. Mrs. Harper still lives in Ravenna where the most of her life has been spent. Her memory being good, she has many entertaining reminiscences of the early days of our town. 30.

Mary Abel was born in 1770, and about the year 1803 came from Kent, Conn. with her husband, Moses Smith, and their two daughters, to make their home in Ohio.

Nath of Kent Conn

Mrs. Joel Thompson of Waterloo, Ind. says: "My grandmother, Mary Smith, was prompt and methodical in all things. In common with nearly everyone she worked up wool and flax to clothe her family. She would commence the work as soon as the sheep were sheared in the spring, and before winter the wool would be made into blankets and clothing for her family, with extra for possible needy ones. Her life was filled with a continuous round of home duties, and can only be of interest from a historical standpoint since it is representative of the lives of hundreds and thousands of noble women who laid the firm foundation for the beautiful superstructure which the women of today are raising.

"My mother, Samantha Smith" (Mrs. Richard McBride), continues Mrs. Thompson, "had for a pet a young deer which she kept for sometime, but it became so mischievous that grandfather was obliged to kill it.

"The school mother attended was, I think, the second one opened in the village and was taught by Miss Achsah Eggleston of Aurora. The building was a tiny log cabin with oiled paper for windows. Turkey quills supplied the pens, and puncheon boards laid on pegs in the wall were used for desks.

"Within a few years after her marriage to Richard McBride they moved to

Writings "Pioneer Women"
R.M.L.

32. GEN.

Mary Abel
Samantha

Indiana where they spent the remainder of their lives."

In the year 1812 Mrs. (Gen.) Samuel D. Harris, Sr. (Lucy S. Kent) came on horseback from her home in Middletown, Conn., carrying her baby Lucia in her arms. Mrs. Harris was not only intellectual and cultured, but was also an expert needle woman. One triumph of her skill was the making for her husband of one dozen ruffled cambric shirts with one needle. A specimen of her work which is still in the family is a table cloth of fine, beautiful linen.

Her daughter Lucia grew to womanhood in Ravenna, and was married to John Gillis of the firm of Gillis & Prentiss. Those who knew Mrs. Gillis remember her as a beautiful woman. She was especially fond of music and art, poetry and flowers. During her life she made a valuable collection of gems of poetry. Only one of her seven children is now living in Ravenna, Mrs. (Judge) Geo. F. Robinson.

Mrs. S. D. Harris, Jr. (Joanna Doty) came from Sharon, Conn. in 1837 and is still living in this place, a beautiful example of loving, cheerful devotion to husband, family and friends. Her love of flowers and her success in their culture is only one of her many charming traits of character.

In 1811 Miss Pamelia Lewis, a native of Farmington, Conn. was married to Zenas Kent. The father of Miss Lewis was a Revolutionary veteran and also a carpenter and joiner, as were also both her husband and his father.

Mrs. Kent was a charming woman and one who possessed rare tact in the management of household and family affairs. She was mother of thirteen children, ten of whom lived to maturity and are known as men and women of spotless integrity.

The eldest daughter, Harriet Kent, married Charles Clapp, then a merchant of Ravenna. Some years after their marriage, Mr. Clapp becoming convinced that the Shaker faith was the only right one, made suitable provision for his wife and family, and joining that peculiar sect, became their Shaker Elder, while his wife subsequently settled in New York city. Of her he said to a friend but a short time before his death in 1891 or 1892, "I would not have you think it was for any fault of her who was my wife, that I did as I did. She was without a fault."

Mrs. Kent's son,

is well known in business circles throughout the country, his chief enterprise being the inauguration and completion of the A. & G. W. R. R. (now the Erie) through the state of Ohio.

Her four younger daughters who lived to maturity were, Eliza A., who became the wife of John Poag, a merchant of New York city. Emily was married to R. B Dennis, Esq. of Cleveland; Frances became Mrs. Geo. W. Wells, and Amelia Mrs. J. W. Shively who was a surgeon in the U. S. army during the war of the Rebellion, now residing in Washington D. C.

Maria L. Johnson was born in Mifflin, Penn. 1810. Her parents removed to Lancaster O., where in 1831 she was married to Geo. E. Robinson. In 1835 Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, with their baby boy, Alfred, moved to Ravenna. Mrs. Robinson was domestic in her tastes and very benevolent, eminently a keeper at home. But she was a typical pioneer woman, in the sense of being always ready to undertake any duty which came to her. Mr. Robinson's business took him often from home, but his wife was entirely capable of carrying on the home both outdoors and in the house. She was a fearless house woman, and beside her many beautiful, womanly traits possessed a talent for business which served her well, when as circumstances sometimes made it desirable, she bought or sold stock in her husband's absence. Mrs. Robinson had eight children. Her son Henry was the first soldier from Ravenna to lay down his life in the late war. Another son, Judge Geo. F. Robinson was captain in the army and was confined for months in Libby prison.

Three of the four daughters are living in this place, Emily, Mrs. H. W. Riddle; Elizabeth, Mrs. (General) T. F. Wilde, and Miss Franc Robinson. The youngest daughter, Mrs. A. E. Hermann, resides in Terre Haute, Ind.

Huldah Oviatt, who came to Ravenna from Goshen, Conn. was first married to a son of David Hudson, the founder of Hudson, O. After the death of Mr. Hudson, she was married to Darius Lyman, who was at one time candidate for governor of Ohio.

Mrs. Lyman had one daughter, Laura, married to W. S. C. Otis. Mr. Otis was at the time of his marriage, a lawyer in Ravenna. They removed from here to Akron and finally to Cleveland, where Mrs. Otis still lives.

The marriage of Miss Lyman to Mr. Otis was the first ceremony of the kind performed by the Rev. E. E. Atwater. During his pastorate here, Rev. Atwater was himself married to Miss Rebecca Dana of New Haven, Conn.

Mrs. Lyman died in 1832 and Mr. Lyman's second marriage was to Mrs. Hiram Walbridge, (whose maiden name was Lucy Ann Rose) of Canaan, Conn. Two more daughters came to the home, Mary Lyman (Hood) and Anna Lyman (Woodworth), both of whom reside in California.

Polly Burroughs came from Vermont to Ohio about the year 1825. She was married to Mr. Wm. Coolman, proprietor of the Globe Tavern, which stood on the site of the present Etna House. Mr. Coolman was occupied much of his time in the courthouse, and in consequence the management of the hotel fell largely to Mrs. Coolman. She is remembered as a woman with a marvelous capacity for work and a model housekeeper. Some of the beautiful and glasses which were used in their hotel are still in possession of the family.

Nor did Mrs. Coolman allow her household duties to entirely engross her mind, for she was a leader in social and intellectual circles. There were three sons and two daughters in the family. Her daughter Amelia was first married to Thomas Burgess, and after his death to John G. McBride.

Augusta Coolman was born in 1820. From her mother she inherited a talent for work and unlimited energy. She was married to H. Y. Beebe, and with her husband went to keeping house in the residence which is still standing on the northeast corner of Cleveland Ave. and Main St. The building had been erected for a store and was not yet completed when they first occupied it, but with their push and perseverance it was converted into a beautiful home.

Mrs. Beebe had a very fine voice, and for many years sang in the Universalist choir of this place. She was also an invaluable member of the aid society, and was the one upon whom they depended to cut all the garments which they made.

Mrs. Camilla (King) Harmon, wife of Orrin Harmon was the eldest of eleven children of Dr. Robert King, who settled in Charleston, Portage County in 1826. She was born in Sandisfield, Mass. 1802, came to Portage County with her father and was married to Orrin Harmon at Ravenna, September, 1832. One time in welcoming a new neighbor, Mrs. Harmon said, "I'm very glad you are to be near us, but I don't go out very much and I probably won't come to see you unless you are sick, then I'll come." That was the keynote of her life; devotion to home and untiring ministrations to the sick and needy were her dearest joys. The memory of this quiet, unassuming, little woman is fragrant in the hearts of all who knew her.

Mrs. Perry Hazard Babcock (Cynthia Hickocks) came to Ravenna in 1818 from Granville, Mass. Mrs. Babcock was an intrepid horseback rider, and with her husband was accustomed to ride fifty miles over the hills from Granville to visit their relative, Oliver Hazard Perry, afterward Commodore Perry. She was a tireless knitter, one of her best pieces of work being a beautiful white quilt. Another kind of handiwork in which she excelled was embroidery, and her bed curtains were wrought with her own swift flying needle.

Mrs. Babcock had four sons and two daughters, all of whom settled in Ravenna.

Mary Collins came to this place as a teacher in 1811 from Hartford, Conn. She became acquainted with Almon Babcock who came to Portage County in 1810, the eldest son of Mrs. Perry H. Babcock, and they were married at her father's home in Rootstown, Christmas day, 1814. During the following year they erected the first brick house in this place (which was the second in the county) for a hotel, on the ground now occupied by the Opera House.

Her wedding gown was of white cambric, beautifully embrdidered by her own hands. Among her many lovely traits of character she possessed the qualifications of an excellent nurse, and was sent Betsey TROWBRIDGE was born in Franklin County, Mass. In January 1785. In 1807 she w united in marriage with Joseph TORRY. In 1816 they with their young family left their nati hills and came to Ravenna. She endeavored, in spite of difficulties to give her children all possible advantages of education and refinement that could be obtained. She was well informed on current events, and having a fine memory, could have given a good history of Ravenna during nearly seventy years of its growth.

To show how well her mind was preserved, we will by permission, give an extract from a le to a friend written soon after the death of his wife. Mrs. TORRY was then ninety-eight year old. After expressing deep sympathy for him in the loss of so dear a friend, she says, "After severe suffering she has left her frail casket; her mortal has put on immortality, she has bade her friends and all the glittering toys of earth adieu, and has ascended up through the etherea blue to mansions of the blest."

The winter before Mrs. TORRY's death, which occurred in Cleveland at the age of ninety-n years, she cut and sewed rags enough to make a carpet, which shows that she was physically well as mentally vigorous.

Hannah TAYLOR was born in Franklin County, Mass. In 1788. Her parents moved to Phel N.Y., where in 1810 she was married to James T. TROWBRIDGE. In 1833 they came to Ravenna with their family. She was a domestic woman, seldom leaving home, but her frienc were warmly welcomed to her own fireside. Her three daughters lie in Maple Grove cemete Adaline, unmarried, Mrs. Wm. BOND and Mrs. Samuel BLOOMER.

Sally BLAKELY was born in Genoa, N.Y. in January, 1797. She was married to Daniel TROWBRIDGE in Phelps, N.Y. in 1818, and they in 1833 removed with their family of eig children to Ravenna. To them were born in Ohio three more children and only one of the ei daughters and three sons is now living in Ravenna. This daughter, Mrs. A.J. JENNINGS is residing on the farm where she and her husband first went to housekeeping, the farm on whi Mr. JENNINGS was born. Mrs. JENNINGS wields a very facile pen and has kindly furnishe the items for the JENNINGS, TROWBRIDGE and RAWSON families.

Four daughters of Mrs. TROWBRIDGE live in Cleveland, and one in Michigan. One of the daughters, Percy, is a successful teacher in the Cleveland Central High School

Mrs. TROWBRIDGE retained the vigor of her mind until the time of her death, which occurred in Hudson at the age of ninety years.

Sally RAWSON was born in Ravenna in 1816, and was married to N.D. CLARK in 1834. H entire life was spent in this place where her death occurred in 1889. Mrs. CLARK had two daughters, both of whom preceded her to the world beyond. She was a genial, pleasant wom with a warm heart for all, especially the sick and needy. Mrs. CLARK loved society and so long as she was able, her home was open for the entertainment of friends.

Czarina RAWSON was born in Ravenna in 1820 and married Geo. HARPER in 1844. Mrs. HARPER still lives in Ravenna where the most of her life has been spent. Her memory bein good, she has many entertaining reminiscences of the early days of our town.

→ Mary ABEL was born in 1770, and about the year 1803 came from Kent, Conn. With her husband, Moses SMITH, and their two daughters, to make their home in Ohio.

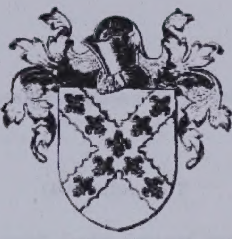
Abell Family



The above family crest was used by my ancestor, George Abell.

Fleur-de-lis signify that the Abells were originally of Norman-French origin and they, in all probability, settled in England during the Norman invasion. The presence of the Fleur-de-lis so prominently on the Abell escutcheon signifies that they were held in very high esteem by the Norman rulers, for only those families of the very noblest rank were given the privilege of bearing the Fleur-de-lis, which was the chief heraldic device on the escutcheon of the early Norman-French kings. It was a very rare distinction for them to share this device with others.

Robert Abell, Esq., was living in Bryslingcote, county Derby, in 1517. He was servant or tenant of Sir William Gresley. His grandson, George Abell, of Leicestershire, in 1578 matriculated at Brasenose College, University of Oxford. He appears to have been a member of a branch which flourished in the central counties during the 16th and 17th centuries and in which the names of Robert and George predominated. In 1636 William Abell of Northampton was an alderman of London and next year was high sheriff, in which capacity he became so cordially unpopular in his attempt to enforce the king's unjust taxation scheme, that during the protectorate he was forced to seek refuge in Holland. A few years later John Abell became a favorite at the court of Charles II, possibly a son or near relative of the high sheriff being recompensed after the restoration. He was a noted "alto" singer, of high voice, the modern tenor. It appears that he also became unpopular during the revolution which deposed James II, but found great demand and much acclaim for his talents on the continent, especially in Poland then at the height of her power.

In 1630 Robert, second son of George Abell of Leicestershire, set sail in the fleet under Governor Winthrop for Massachusetts Bay. His father's will made in September the same year "cut him off" with a "twenty shilling piece," in view of having set him up in business in London of which he had made no use and more recently of having outfitted him for New England with the hope of his safe arrival. No doubt George Abell had passed on before such a message could have been received in those days. The first American record finds Robert Abell settled at Weymouth, Mass., where on October 19, 1630, his name appears on a petition, with others, to be made a "Freeman." He took the oath as Freeman on May 18, 1631. This act endowed him with full privileges and responsibilities of citizenship in the new colony, including ownership of lands, in the exercise of which he continued to acquire holdings, especially after his removal in 1643 to Rehoboth, a new settlement on the south side of the peninsula begun in 1642 by a party of colonists under the Reverend Samuel Newman, a minister at Weymouth for five years preceding. Robert Abell purchased the allotment first sold to Job Lane. His name appears frequently in public records up to the time of his death in 1663, including two appointments as keeper of the "Ordinary," from all of which it is reasonably to be assumed that he attained a position of considerable importance and was held in high esteem by his associates in the colony. In connection with the Inventory of his estate, administered by his widow Joanna, is mentioned his "eldest son," to whom was bequeathed the homestead, his "daughter Mary and five other children." His widow Joanna married William Hyde in 1667, and with her second husband moved to Norwich, Conn. Robert's eldest son, Preserved Abell, remained in Rehoboth, and his three other sons went to Norwich with their mother.

Probably all of the present day Abells of New England stock are descendants of Robert's three sons, Preserved, Caleb and Benjamin Abell. (I am through Caleb) His fourth son, Joshua, did not leave any male descendants. The 22nd and 24th President of the United States, Grover Cleveland, descended through the line of Experience Abell and her husband John Hyde, and would be a 4th cousin to me. As a point of interest, this Abell genealogy is traced back from my grandmother, Mattie Akers, but the line links with the Varney family, who are the ancestors of my grandfather, Herbert Maxfield. Frank Gifford is also found in the Abell genealogy.

Notes for Caleb Abell: Sergt. Caleb Abell is first mentioned in the Colonial records at Dedham in 1665, petitioned for Freeman in Dedham, May 3, 1665; in 1668 moved to Norwich, Conn. In the original purchase of land when Norwich was settled, six acres having 16 rods front was assigned to Robert Wade, this he sold to Caleb Abell in 1677 and it was afterwards known as the Abell homestead. This property abutted on Town Street 16 rods, on the home lot of Morgan Bowers 72 rods, on the river 18 rods and on John Birchard land 74 rods. The location may be seen in a map on page 67 of "Caulkins' Norwich." On December 18, 1694 Caleb was appointed to keep his house as "an ordinari or of entertayment" for the year, or until another be chosen.

In 1697 Caleb and ten others were allowed to build a seat on the east side of the meeting house on the Leanto beams for their convenient sitting on the Lord's Days. Rev. Huntington's book of "Old Houses of the Ancient Town of Norwich" names 36 men whom he supposes to have been original proprietors; but one of these was Richard Wallis and another was Caleb Abell, who in 1660 was only 14 years of age. On May 2, 1728 Caleb deeded 12 1/4 acres of land to his daughter, Esperience Hide. On January 12, 1727-8 Caleb deeded to his son Noah his home lot, dwelling house and barn, all lands adjoining his home lot and lands over the river (Yantic) his pasture land lying northerly and northeasterly of William Hide dwelling house (which house was on the other side of Town Street and a little to the east) lying in two parcels, together with land on both sides of Bradford brook on north side of road leading to Lebanon, except 1 1/2 acres on south east of brook and land near Benjamin Abell's dwelling house which he gave to his son Samuel, reserving to himself and his wife Marey the dwelling house during his life and for hers after his decease, also liberty to his daughter Hannah to dwell in said house so long as she remains unmarried and a passageway across home lot to his son Samuel to Samuel's own land.

Caleb joined the first church of Norwich before 1701. He was Sergeant of the Norwich Train Band in 1701 and Selectman in 1682, Constable in 1684 and 1706 and Townsman in 1689. In the book of Grants in Norwich, there are 38 or more items to Caleb Abell.

A Note From

Ms. Lurah J. Phillips

Jan. 26, 2010

Dear Carolyn,

I am sending you the family history of the family on the maternal line. It goes back to Charlemagne. It was fun to do. I liked the Berkleys. Thomas, the rich, Charles the Bald etc. I read the book about Charles, the Bald and he wasn't bald!

You can do whatever you please with the information. I realize Kathy wouldn't care to do anything with it. She is more interested in photo's and has many that she wants to make lighter or darker when she finds time. She is moving this week. Will still be close.

A Note From

Ms. Lurah J. Phillips

I'm tired of genealogy and want to finish the families I have started. As I finish the note-books I give them to Kathy. Also, I'm giving her the printed books I have. The DeVoe Book 1885 is still used and rare. She had it restored.

It has been a fun hobby and very time consuming but fun.

I'm doing very well finishing them and appreciate all the information you gave me through the years.

Love,
Aunt Lurah
